lems, spray problems and a general exchange of ideas of agents as to developments in spraying methods. This meeting is held annually at this season of the year at the Poughkeepsie Branch Experimental Station of the Geneva Experimental station to outline for spraying of fruit for the balance of the season and to discuss other problems relative to the fruit raising industry in the valley. The ideas expressed at the meeting will be brought back by the county agents and those pertaining to local conditions will be put into effect throughout the growing season.

North Central Area Hit

(By The Associated Press)

Killing frosts struck the north central section of the nation early today.

In the wake of a mixed snow and rain precipitation area which swept into the northeastern states with snow up to six inches in depth reached at Montpelier, Vt. The Weather Bureau said today's was the latest killing frost in the affected area in 23 years. The next latest day was May 23, 1917, and the record latest killing frost was May 23, 1882. The average last killing frost at Chicago is April 15.

Last night's frost area extended as far south as Evansville, Ind., and Carbondale, Ill., and covered most of the Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and southern Michigan, with killing frosts recorded in some sections of those states.

R. C. Schmidt, Chicago bureau forecaster, promised relief was on its way for the entire nation, with no great cold in immediate prospect anywhere. In the Dakota country, where minimums have held to 20 to 25 degrees for some days, last night's minimums were only in the low 40's.

The snow which fell in some sections of the midwest yesterday blanketed a large section of the New England coast and inland and in northern New York today. Northern New England had its most severe May snowstorm in 23 years, with falls measuring up to six inches, while the five inch fall at Albany, N. Y., was the heaviest May snowfall on record.

Fruit trees were damaged in New England, transportation disrupted and electric service interrupted in scores of towns in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont. Two traffic deaths were attributed to the snowy streets.

Six Inches in Vermont

The Chicago weather bureau said six inches of snow fell at Montpelier, Vt., the heaviest amount reported, while at Augusta, Me., the fall measured five inches, equalling the fall at Albany and Fort Plain, N. Y. Snow continued falling along the New England coast but it changed to rain in upper New York state.

Rain was forecast for a wide section of the midwest today and tonight, in the wake of sub-freezing readings this morning. The coldest area in the midwest region was in the northern part of lower Michigan, with a low of 22 above at Cadillac, 23 at Pellston and a freezing 32 at Lansing. Below and near freezing temperatures also were reported in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Wisconsin.

One person was killed, two others were injured and a number of buildings, including two schools, were damaged when a tornado struck near Starr, S. C., yesterday. Normal weather prevailed over most of the gulf and mountain states and on the Pacific coast yesterday. High readings were 96 at Phoenix, Ariz., and 90 at Jacksonville, Fla.

In upstate New York Rochester escaped with two-tenths of an inch of snow, but that figure tied the previous May record established in 1924. At Buffalo there was only a trace of snow.

Albany streets were littered with limbs. State police reported several abandoned cars along U. S. 20 west of the city.

Trouble calls reached the New York Telephone Company at the rate of more than one a minute. The New York Power and Light Corporation reported three to four calls a minute during the height of the storm.

Wyoming county farmers reported limbs were torn from their fruit trees. They were unable to give an immediate estimate of damage.

deal with the dissolution of the propaganda ministry of the notorious Goebbels and the establishment of an unbiased and truthful press and radio system."

O.W.I. Director Elmer Davis yesterday announced that all foreign publications, films and business enterprises will be bunned from Germany.

Public relations will be concerned with issuing communiques, accreditation of correspondents and press censorship. Regarding the latter, the department said: "Censorship in the American zone will be solely on the basis of military security."

Three Divisions for Demobilization The demobilization of German armed forces and disarmament will be attended to by three military divisions—army, naval and air.

A reparations, deliveries and restitution division will supervise carrying out in the American zone policies agreed upon in the control council dealing with activities "suggested by its title," said the department.

Tremendous tasks lie ahead of the economic division, which will deal with such problems as food, agriculture and forestry, fuel and mining, price control and rationing," the department declared. Other divisions include internal affairs and communications division; political; transport; prisoners of war and displaced persons; manpower and legal.

bombers closely supported the ground fight.

A headquarters spokesman said perhaps 18,000 Japanese civilians had evacuated Davao city.

Davao and newly-invested Samar Island offshore are firmly in American hands. The port is one of the best in the Philippines.

On Tarakan Island, Borneo, Australian and Dutch troops reached the edge of the Djerau oil field, second largest on the little island, against slight opposition.

Homeland Is Bombed

Guam, May 11 (AP)—Superfortresses bombed Japan's homeland three times today, striking at three industrial centers and three airfields on Kyushu Island in a swift follow-up to yesterday's 400-plane B-29 raid.

In the heaviest attack 100 to 150 Superfortresses attacked the big Kawanishi seaplane plant on Honshu, between Kobe and Osaka as a smaller fleet blasted the Oita and Suiki air fields on Kyushu.

The latest attack was aimed at the important cities of Miyako, Aomori and Nittigahara, and at the Miyakaki airfield. Kyushu airfields home bases of enemy planes used in Okinawa fighting, have been pounded time after time, by the big bomb carriers.

Japanese Are Surrounded

Chungking, May 11 (AP)—Chinese troops, supported by U. S. 14th Air Force planes, have surrounded a large number of Japanese troops 40 miles west of Paoting after smashing an enemy drive on the American airbase at Chihkiang, a Chinese Army spokesman said today.

In a pincer movement, Chinese forces from the north and from the south met on the main highway leading to Chihkiang from Paoting, main springboard of the Japanese offensive in Hunan.

The spokesman said the Japanese were throwing in reserves in an attempt to halt the Chinese counter-offensive, which resulted in 1,000 enemy troops killed when the main assault on Chihkiang was crushed.

A dispatch from Chihkiang, by Associated Press Correspondent Clyde Farnsworth, stated that in less than one month between 4,500 and 6,000 Japanese had been killed as Chinese ground forces and U. S. air support combined to halt the enemy offensive aimed at the base.

organization and they have lost a great bulk of their heavy equipment.

Unlike operators in the vicinity of Japan, the Japanese forces facing the Southeast Asia Command have neither air force nor navy to aid them. It is estimated that there are between 200 and 300 Japanese planes to defend the entire "Sumatra and Malaya" area, while no portion of the Japanese surface fleet has dared to venture so far south of Japanese home waters. A few Jap submarines continue to operate in the Bay of Bengal but their job is increasingly difficult, since their facilities are limited and they are under constant Allied air attack.

Sense of Vision Greatly Needed Says Dr. Sockman

Noted Radio Speaker Is Heard at St. James Church Uptown by Many

The Rev. Dr. Ralph Sockman, pastor of Christ Methodist Church, Park avenue, New York city, one of the outstanding preachers in Methodism and a well known speaker over the radio, gave an appealing and inspiring address at St. James Methodist Church at 11 o'clock this morning.

The occasion was the 58th regular annual meeting of the stewards of the Kingston District of the New York Conference, Methodist Church and the church was well filled as the public generally took advantage of the opportunity to hear this noted speaker.

The Methodist Church generally is entering upon the "Evangelical" phase of the "Crusade for Christ," and the meeting at St. James today is dedicated to this thought.

Dr. Sockman's address, hinting at the essential needs of this evangelistic movement is to be effectively carried out, based his talk on the words of Isaiah, "Ye prisoners of hope fortify yourselves with a sense of vision."

Stresses Definite Aims

"When a nation loses its sense of vision it disintegrates," he declared. Just "getting ahead" in this world was found to be not enough, but there must be "something big enough to live for," particularly if the church is to hold young men who return home after putting their every effort and venturing their lives to accomplish certain definite ends and aims.

Dr. Sockman counseled a gospel of action. "Go out and do something," he said. Also it must be a gospel in life, a fortress, or stronghold, where men may fortify themselves. Further, it "must give an answer of comfort to those at home who have suffered losses."

The speaker said, "We become free from the fear of life when we become free from the fear of death."

Refers to Russia

The speaker said that if he were to become prophetic he would say that "during the coming year you are going to see increasing rise of suspicion and fear of Russia," adding that "if the Christian Church could do for Russia what Ernie Pyle did for the soldiers there would be no fear of war."

One of the outstanding needs of the church was seen to be a "sense of comradeship," the feeling that the church is a "home."

The conference this morning opened with devotions led by the Rev. Henry Lincoln and an address of welcome by Dr. Julian I. Gifford of St. James Church.

The Rev. Raymond Ward conducted the devotions at the opening of the afternoon session at 2:15 o'clock. There were addresses by Alvah D. Rowell, conference lay leader, and by Dr. I. Gordon Chamberlain, conference secretary board of education and missions, who spoke on "Our Conference Program."

Reports Collision

Herry Nenni, driver for the Perry taxi service, reported to the police Thursday afternoon that while driving his taxi on Broadway, near McEntee street, it had been hit by another car whose driver failed to stop. He furnished the police with the license number of the car which he said had hit the taxi.

Bitten by Dog

Jay Alcon, 14, of 43 East Strand, was bitten in the leg by a dog on Thursday afternoon, according to a police report. The wound was treated by a physician.

Local Death Record

Funeral services for John L. Helser of 98 Green street, were held Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the parlors of A. Carr and Son on Pearl street, with the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, rector of St. John's Church, officiating. Wednesday evening employees of The Freeman called at the funeral parlors and the same evening the Men's Club of St. John's Church met in the parlors and led by the rector of the church held services. Burial was in Willwyck cemetery. Bearers were Harry C. Kupperman, Harry Richter, Fred Bushnell and Bertram Burr.

Mrs. Mary J. Ludwig Luthile, widow of Fred Luthile, died Thursday in the Kingston Hospital in her 77th year. She is survived by a brother, William Ludwig, of this city, and a nephew, Ray Walter, of Poughkeepsie.

She had been an active member of the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church on Spring street, and of the Ladies Aid Society of the church. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Kukuk Memorial Funeral Home, 167 Tremper avenue, with burial in Willwyck cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Murphy Sheeley was held Wednesday morning from the home of her son, John J. Sheeley, 224 Main street at 9 o'clock and from St. Joseph's Church at 9:45 o'clock where a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of her soul by the Rev. Joseph D. Simmons.

The responses to the Mass were sung by the children's choir with Mrs. Frank Rafferty presiding at the organ. Tuesday evening, the Rt. Rev. Stephen P. Connelly called at the home and led the assembled group in the recitation of the Rosary. Burial was in St. Ann's Cemetery, Sawkill. The Rev. Joseph M. Brown gave the final blessing.

Funeral services for James R. Richtmyer were held Wednesday afternoon, with prayer by the Rev. William R. Peckham of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church at 12:30 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George H. Foster, 134 Downs street, preceding services which were held at the Methodist Church, Windham, N. Y., at 2 p. m., the Rev. William L. Constock officiating. Many neighbors and friends called at the late home to pay their last respects and there were many beautiful floral offerings, including a floral piece from the Downs street neighbors. Burial was in Fairview cemetery, Prattville, with Masonic honors by Oasis Lodge, of which Mr. Richtmyer had been a member for half a century. Bearers were members of the Masonic fraternity.

JOB AHEAD

Announcement has been made by the U. S. Treasury that the quota for "E Bonds" in the 7th War Loan has been set at four billion dollars. That's a mighty big quota for the War Bonds that the average American buys and it's going to take some digging to make it. But we've never missed an "E Bond" goal yet and we're not going to miss this one.

A big chunk, two and one-half billions dollars, has been assigned to Payroll Savings, that means American workers. Right now there are about 26 million of us buying shares in the greatest nation in the world by regular voluntary allotment from our pay and extra cash investments.

Through our War Bond investments we are helping to pay for the superior arms and equipment that has made our Army and Navy the greatest fighting force in history, that has given our fighters the best possible care when they have fallen wounded or sick. Our War Bonds are helping to pay the necessary price of ultimate victory and lasting peace. We're all glad to have a real share in this critical struggle.

But don't let us forget our War Bonds are the soundest investment in the world today; that they are as strong in peace as in war. In a message to all Bond owners Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr. stated that the E Bond is "a security unique in the history of Government finance . . . especially designed for your protection . . . It has special privileges such as joint ownership, the right to make a beneficiary, guaranteed values—and if held to maturity—will pay a rate of return not obtainable in any like security anywhere."

Our War Bonds give us a working share in our Government and in our national economic balance. Never have the American people held the check reins on inflation so firmly. Never has the American worker had such a backlog of savings to cushion him against unavoidable temporary lay offs, to educate his children, to see him through sickness.

A nation founded on the thrift of its individual citizens is a strong nation. Our War Bond programs have given each one of us the opportunity to practice the kind of thrift that will give us the full sense of democratic independence for which our sons and brothers have died and for which we have toiled. Let's not forget it when we sign our Pledge cards in the Payroll Savings Drive for the 7th War Loan.

You can tell a good deal about a newspaper reader these days by noticing whether he looks first at the war news or the sporting page.

RATIONING WILL CONTINUE

The old easy days when you could step into a store any day and buy anything you wanted if you had the money or credit are not going to be with us for some time. Fred M. Vinson, director of War Mobilization and Reconversion, has made this clear.

The director has stated that we must exert our full strength on battle and production fronts alike while undergoing at home continued shortages of food, clothing and shelter until the war with Japan has been won.

We will be rationed even more strictly on food until the war is over. Supplies are expected to be lower and requirements for both the armed forces and liberated countries greater. This means that the American people must continue to tighten their belts.

Nations usually learn the hard way, but at last we are going to have that League.

ON ADOLF'S BED

All in all, probably the best news picture put into general circulation lately is one showing Staff Sergeant Arthur E. Peters of Edmund, Okla., lying in Hitler's bed with his boots on, reading a magazine. They are large boots, and not very clean. This is in the Brown House in Munich, one of Adolf's favorite stopping places.

What Sgt. Peters is reading is not disclosed, but it doesn't matter. The satisfac-

LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORD

The United States of America has since December 7, 1941, been fighting two wars. Starting with a war of 8,000 miles from home and another 4,000 miles from home. Besides, the United States has supported by money, food and the weapons of war all her allies, the fighting ones and the non-fighting ones. She got nothing from anybody—not even always the support she was entitled to. So the war reaches its end and Stalin believes the propaganda the O.W.I. and Earl Browder put out about him. He believes that he won this war. He believes that because the American government supplied agreed that Russian rather than American troops should enter Berlin first, it was not the United States that won this war. He has another thought coming to him and if anybody is calculating on doing something to prove who won the war, let him remember that without our food, our planes, our tanks, jeeps, guns, machine-tools and without our army of 11,000,000 men and women, soldiers, sailors and marines and our 50,000,000 producers of manufactured, mineral and agricultural goods, Hitler and Mussolini might today be celebrating. Let no one forget that. And what is more, no real American will ever forget it. And if anyone wants to get tough about it, this is a very bad time to do it—because this is the only country that is not spent—not by a long sight.

Americans dislike pushing people around, because they are poor or weak or backward. We believe that every human being has a right to his say and that every country is entitled to its independence and to the form of government its own people choose for themselves. So, what happens? Bulgaria is bossed by Georgi Dimitroff, former head of the Third International. Here is what this Georgi Dimitroff planned for the United States:

"Our comrades in the United States acted rightly in taking the initiative for the creation of such a party (Farmer-Labor Party). But they still have to take effective measures in order to make the creation of such a party the cause of the masses themselves. . . . We should develop the most widespread movement for the creation of such a party, and take the lead in it. In no case must the initiative of organizing the party be allowed to pass to elements desirous of utilizing the discontent of the masses which have become disillusioned in both the bourgeois parties, Democratic and Republican, in order to create a 'third party' in the United States, as an anti-Communist party, a party directed against the revolutionary movement."

If you study that paragraph and better still if you read the book "The United Front Against War and Fascism," by Georgi Dimitroff, General Secretary, Communist International, you will get an insight into what the Communists have been doing around here during the past decade.

Did American soldiers fight to make such a man Dictator of Bulgaria?

Josip Broz-Tito, a Communist who lived long in Russia, is now master of Yugoslavia.

Enver Hoxha, Communist, is master of Albania. Lucretiu P. Petrasanu, Communist, boss of Rumania.

The Lublin Government of Poland is controlled by Russia and 16 representatives of the Polish Government are arrested in spite of their heroism during the war.

The new Austrian government is appointed by Russia without much as your leave.

In China, Russia maintains a native Communist army and a puppet government which fights Chiang Kai-shek, our ally. And the Chinese live in terror that Soviet Russia will become our ally in the war against Japan and will use that excuse to seize Manchuria, Korea and North China.

All this monkey business about majority votes and a President at San Francisco is the sheer bunk. Democrats believe in a majority vote; totalitarianism use the device of the President which fixes the control in the Dictator. The Russians have from Lenin to Stalin opposed democracy. They started with the dictatorship of the proletariat and ended in the dictatorship of Stalin. They do not know what a majority vote means.

Let us look at the record, as Al Smith used to say.

SHAKING Palsy

Shaking palsy, Parkinson's disease, and Paralysis Agitans are the various names given to the group of symptoms in which there is (a) trembling or shaking of the limbs, (b) rigidity of muscles and slowness of movement, stolid staring expression of face, and (c) head and body bent forward, arms and legs slightly bent.

"Because of these three symptoms the patient has difficulty lying down or rising (falls backward) and attempt to sit down results in falling in a heap into chair." The patient does not move or shake when at rest. "Some patients sit motionless for hours."

Parkinson's disease or group of symptoms has been known since Bible times yet no form of treatment has been able to bring about a cure. Treatment of the various symptoms, however, has brought mental and physical relief to many patients.

At the last session of the Southern Medical Association in St. Louis, Dr. Roland M. Klemme, Professor of Surgery at St. Louis University School of Medicine, announced a new operation which restores normal condition in patients suffering with Parkinson's disease. Dr. Klemme has spent 14 years of research work on this disease. "The first operation was performed in 1935 but announcement of it has been withheld until results were tested in 200 cases." A complete cure occurred in 64 per cent of the 200 cases, good results but not a complete cure in an additional 14 per cent, failure of the operation in only 7 per cent. Deaths from the operation or complications following the operation, were 9.5 per cent.

Dr. Klemme explained that palsy is the result of disease of a part of the brain controlling the fine movements or combination of movements of the body. By removing certain nerve cells which interfere with these co-ordinated movements (such as walking), the patient recovered his lost balance or control.

"The operation requires about 90 minutes and convalescence lasts from two weeks to two months."

It is indeed encouraging that the cure of this "incurable" disease which has existed for centuries is now known and that surgery can help such a large percentage of cases.

LEE G. MILLER'S COLUMN

Aboard a Cruiser in the Celebes Sea (by wireless)—This is a story about the eve of action. Such occasions are supposed to be full of tension. It didn't quite work out that way.

True, we weren't anticipating much opposition. The Japs on the island of Tarakan were supposed to be few, and their airpower insufficient or negligible—if the existence of even a single suicide-bomber plane could properly be called negligible.

We had rendezvoused early in the morning, a few miles off Tarakan with 20-odd minesweepers, hydrographic ships and whatnot. "Sweepers" moved in ahead of us and grubbed for mines all day. They found several. The next morning we were to begin several days of pre-invasion shelling.

Well, after dinner we correspondents climbed to the top of the bridge structure and sat around with Capt. Jack Duncan of our cruiser and Brig. Gen. Earl Barrows of the 13th Air Force. And what did we talk about?

We talked about words. It might have been a classroom, or information Pleasure.

Captain Duncan had a word quiz from a magazine, which started it. Then he told a story about his college days, when a professor had derided him for defining "transparent" as meaning to sweat, and Duncan triumphantly vindicated himself from a dictionary.

I got caught misdefining parody. We argued the meaning of the word subliminate, which the others said meant suppress or subordinate. I said it meant to vaporize. I still don't know who was right. (Editor's note—Neither was right; subliminate means to direct an impulse from its primitive aim to one that is culturally or ethically higher.)

We debated whether the word "transit" can be used as a verb. (Editor's note—It can.)

Admiral Russell S. Berkeley joined us, and someone wanted to know what the "Seven Seas" were. The admiral and the captain reeled off the names of dozens of seas, including several we had just traversed. We tried to name the Seven Wonders of the World and the Seven Ages of Man, but we bogged down. We didn't tackle the Seven Sins.

The moon rose, full and yellow as butter. A fine breeze made amends for the day's heat and humidity. Officers and orderlies and signalmen came and went with messages for the admiral or the captain, but scarcely a word was spoken about the next day's operation, though there over our shoulders lay Tarakan, already smoking from aircraft strikes and probably from Jap demolitions as well.

The admiral went to prepare his day's report and the captain had duties too, so the rest of us adjourned to the wardroom.

We combed over the phonograph records, and argued about the dates when several tunes originated—several of the company confessing that their reference point in fixing the year was the romance they associated with the tune.

The galley provided cinnamon toast, and coffee which as always was available.

And so to bed on the eve of the naval bombardment of the oil-rich island. I thought the Jap garrison was not likely to be sleeping so soundly as we.

The next morning I saw Lieut. (j.g.) Herbert A. Starbird, who folks live in Melbourne, Fla., and John Hunt, of Linden, Wash., covered in splashes by a crane. They took off from smooth water to spot our fire on Tarakan.

With them rode Aviation Radiomen J. P. Cantrell, of Kansas City, and Donovan E. Booke, whose wife is in Seattle.

Then we cottoned our ears and settled down to watch the firing. I had been told that the turret guns made less racket than the five-inch ack-ackers but I'm dubious about that now.

We were firing in single-turret salvos—three guns at a time. Each blast shook me till I thought my teeth would lose their fillings. And there would be more the next day and the next. Anyway, nobody fired back.

"At Century's Turn" By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

Kingston's Common Council held its first meeting in the reconstructed city hall on May 7, 1929, with all of the aldermen present. Major E. J. Dempsey also met with the council in its new council chambers on the third floor of the building.

Alderman-at-large C. Ray Everett presided with Aldermen George Dressel, Ray Haines, Zachary, John J. Molyneux, Henry Fox, Sam N. Mann, Alex. Ostrander, Leo Clare, James T. O'Reilly, Charles Burger, Abram Relyea, John Hull and Reilly in attendance.

Before the city hall was gutted by fire the council chambers were located on the second floor of the building in the space now occupied by the city treasurer's and city assessor's offices.

The third floor of the city hall was used for storage purposes. Following the fire which swept through the building the entire interior of the building was redesigned, and the council chambers located on the third floor.

At this first meeting of the council the building and supply committee were authorized to set the date and arrange for the formal opening of the city hall.

On Monday, April 23, 1929, all of the city departments which had been housed in other buildings while the city hall was under reconstruction were moved back into the reconstructed building.

Mayor E. J. Dempsey on May 6, 1929, appointed Fred J. Walter and Mrs. Vincent A. Gorman to serve as members of the Board of Education to succeed Mr. Thomas Hayes and Mrs. Everett Fowler, whose terms had expired.

At a meeting of the directors of the National Ulster County Bank and Trust Co. on April 23, 1929, Albert E. Rose, well known business man of this city was named president to fill the vacancy caused by the death of F. J. R. Clarke who had served the bank as president since 1897.

Mr. Rose for some years was associated with Vincent A. Gorman in the operation of the Rose & Gorman department store on North Front Street, at the head of Wall Street. Mr. Rose shortly before he became president of the bank had sold his interest in the dry goods business to Mr. Gorman, who continued to operate the big store until his death.

At the present time the store is occupied by Montgomery Ward, the widely known mail order house.

Dr. Elbert H. Loughran, health officer of Kingston and long prominent in the medical field in the city and county, died on April 28, 1929, in his home on Main Street, aged 77 years.

Dr. Loughran came to Kingston at the age of 17 years and took up the study of medicine in the office of his uncle, the late Dr. Robert Loughran. Later he attended and graduated from the Bellevue Hospital Medical College in New York in 1873.

Following his graduation he went to New York where he practiced his profession for a year before returning to Kingston, where he became associated with his uncle for six years before he opened his own office in 1880.

Three years later in 1883 he erected his home and office on Main Street, where he continued to live and practice his profession until his death.

GOATS MENACE FOREST

An entire forest on a 20-mile stretch of coastline in New Zealand is overrun by goats who threaten its destruction. Wellington reports state. The area is between Whangapora and Mangonui. Hundreds of wild goats are rapidly destroying shrubbery and forest trees. As many as 50 goats have been seen in a single herd. Even the highest of trees are being destroyed by being barked.

Americans Should Have Chance to Debate Question of Regional Pacts

By DAVID LAWRENCE

San Francisco, May 11.—The American people should have an opportunity to debate the question of regional pacts. It cannot be settled here anyway.

The most that can be done with the issue is to postpone its solution because Foreign Commissioner Molotov has left here after having taken the position that the regional pacts made by Russia with other European countries cannot be touched by the United Nations organization or its charter.

If that applies to the Russo-French and Russo-British and Russo-Czechoslovakian pacts, there is no reason why the Pan-American pact should be subject to restraint by the security council in which the big powers each have a veto and can nullify any needed action.

The British-Russian pact differs from all the others in that it specifically provides that it is to be superseded when the United Nations charter is adopted and takes over the task of preventing aggression. The Russian-French and the Russian-Czech treaties contain no such provisions.

Mr. Molotov, in a formal written statement announced at his conference with the press two days before he left, made this pointed comment:

"One cannot fail to see, either, that an attempt to submit these treaties to the international organization for consideration would be tantamount to violating the sovereign rights of the signatory states. Besides these would run contrary to the Dumbarton Oaks principles recognizing forcefully the sovereign rights of the members of the international security organization. Naturally the idea of revising treaties was rejected as untenable."

While it may be conceded that the Russians had reasons that seemed to them proper for refusing to allow these regional pacts to be subordinated to the United Nations charter, it is difficult to see why the Russian envoy takes the position that to place the charter above existing treaties, when they are inconsistent with the purposes of the United Nations, is to "violate" the sovereign rights of the signatory states.

Nothing, of course, would be done to subordinate these treaties except with the consent of all the powers concerned. Whatever the revision, it would be done by voluntary action. In fact, everything done at San Francisco has to be on a voluntary basis and in every agreement or concession each nation concedes a point in its conception of unlimited sovereignty. If Mr. Molotov's theory were accepted, it would mean that any existing treaty could never be changed even though it contradicted the provisions of the charter.

Thus, the Security Council is to be set up by the charter as the instrument for "handling" the use of armed forces. If Russia, however, takes the view that she and France at any time may decide when to take military measures against the return of aggression, the peace of Europe can be upset at any moment by one-sided action. Likewise, if these treaties are to be absolutely exempt from consideration by the Security Council, then at any time France or Russia or Czechoslovakia or any other nation may decide that something happening or some propaganda activity in a neighboring country threatens to encourage German aggression and hence separate action independent of the Security Council can be validly taken.

The Latin-American countries have a fear of the Russian veto if the Security Council may at any moment prevent the Latin states from taking action against a would-be aggressor. If, for instance, some Latin-American state becomes Communist and starts acts of aggression against a neighbor, Russia's vote in the Security Council, under the Dumbarton Oaks limitations, may veto any action by the Pan-American States. So the Latin-American countries want the charter to read in such a way that if the Security Council doesn't act to prevent aggression, the several states in this hemisphere may do so on their own initiative as provided in the act of Chapultepec.

But if such a proviso is included here, should not Russia ask that if the United Nations do not act to prevent German aggression in Europe, she and her regional allies may do so?

These are some of the fine points of the discussion that has arisen and hence no harm can be done for the time being by freezing the status of the Pan American Pact, just as Mr. Molotov has frozen the status of the regional pacts. Russia has made in Europe the next conference of the United Nations could once more tackle the whole problem.

SHOKAN

Shokan, May 10—Members of the Ladies' Aid Society are pleased with the success attending their supper in the Reformed Church basement. More than 100 persons, representing several communities, were served at the supper tables.

Miss Sadie VanTassel, a former resident of the village center, was numbered among the Kingstonians calling in the hub of the reservoir country last Sunday.

Garden plowing, long held up by the cold, wet spell of weather, is now under way throughout the twin villages. Henry Gabbelin, who jumped the gun on his neighbors by doing some plowing in March, probably will have the first home-grown vegetables this season.

Mr. and Mrs. Amasa Slawson of Kingston attended services in the Olive and Hurley Baptist meeting house Sunday morning and afternoon.

Glenford Davis, Krumville farmer and horse dealer, was a caller here Saturday. Mr. Davis, who returned last week from a trip to Pennsylvania is a busy man as a result of his recent advertising in Freeman Classified.

Mrs. Robert Secor, Tonche neighborhood farm woman who is now in her 95th year, is reported as fairly active in her household duties this spring.

Most recent of the numerous real estate changes here this season is that of the sale by heirs of the Greenway estate of a 32-acre tract of woodland and abandoned fields to Grant Every, Olive superintendent of highways. The property acquired by Mr. and Mrs. Every is located between the north reservoir boulevard and Toran's Hook and comprises practically all of the farm of the late William and Anna Greenway not taken by New York city for reservoir purposes. The tract is well wooded, with some heavy timber and the whole commands one of the best views of the west Ashokan basin.

Mrs. Robert Bostock, who spent the winter months in Louisiana, has rejoined her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Jones of the mountain road.

May 12, 1874, Mrs. Abram Boice, a resident of the Esopus Creek neighborhood, died from injuries received in a fall from a wagon. Funeral services, held in the Shokan Dutch Church, were conducted by the Rev. A. Westover, pastor of the church at that time. May 13, 1874, a temperance lecture was given in the Baptist Church by D. W. Sparling, lawyer and justice of the peace, who had his office on John street in the village of Kingston.

Victory services were held in the Shokan Reformed Church Tuesday evening.

Freeman Keator, Kingston man, whose death at Hawthorne was chronicled in The Freeman, resided in Shokan as a boy. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyce.

Riots Are Continued Among Nova Scotians

New Waterford, N. S., May 11 (AP)—A rioting mob of 300 teen-aged boys and girls smashed windows in this mining town's main street last night, looted several stores and stoned and injured two policemen, as new outbreaks of lawlessness by victory celebrants were reported in other communities.

New Waterford's mayor, W. J. Inchey, appealed to Halifax for aid as the riot continued unchecked to a late hour.

At Liverpool a 9:30 p. m. curfew was imposed after a mob of civilians and servicemen, still celebrating V-E Day, looted the town liquor store, and at Dominion, another riot centered about the town liquor store.

Keator, Freeman, it is recalled, was one of the few local boys who had one of those old high-wheeled bicycles of the long-ago.

Henry W. Latham, one of the youngest members of the present congress, has friends in Shokan, where he has visited as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Carpenter. Mr. and Mrs. Latham a few years ago spent their honeymoon at the Carpenter camp along the Ridge road.

Paul C. James of New York spent Sunday with his aunt, Mrs. E. Winchell, Paul, who was recently promoted in his shipyard duties at Kearney, N. J., reports that Federal, with a payroll roster of around 17,000, is continuing full speed ahead on its war time jobs of turning out ships.

The late Augustus Elmendorf, well-known Hurley farmer, was a native of the old village of Olive. Mr. Elmendorf and his sister, Mrs. Zedec P. Boice, were children of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Elmendorf, whose farm home was near the site of the present railroad station at Ashokan.

Miss Clara Lenox of Kingston has sold her bungalow on the south side of Route 28 in the east end of the village.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jones have improved their farm property by the addition of a new chicken house.

North Olive residents having birthdays this week include the following: Doris Elmendorf, May 7; Fred Gulnack, May 10, and Viola Van Kleeck, May 11th.

225 Donors Ready To Give Blood to Red Cross Bank

The Red Cross Bank from New York will be in Kingston on Tuesday, May 15, and the Ulster County Chapter of the Red Cross announced today that there had been 225 donors signed.

The local Red Cross said today that the need is greater than ever, and urges that all those who have appointments to donate blood be on hand Tuesday, so that there will be no delay.

At least one pint of blood is needed for every man in the armed forces. The Red Cross officials said that in some cases as much as 34 pints had been used in a single case of a wounded man.

With the cessation of hostilities in Europe the World War is but half completed, so that the need for both plasma and whole blood in large quantities will continue indefinitely.

Your savings invested in War Bonds will help stabilize prices now and provide for your own security in the future.

pictures are now in the collection of the concern, and are being used. The fine paintings, many of them by well known American artists, are being used as reproductions.

These reproductions are framed in specially constructed frames, designed by the artists of the concern, and are distributed to art dealers and stores handling high grade art productions.

Owing to the skilled work in reproducing fine paintings and the artistic frames in which they are placed the products of the concern retail at high prices.

Mr. Allen said that when the concern went into full production in Kingston that it was planned to use at least 40 skilled employees.

The entire work of designing and manufacturing fine frames will be done at the local plant, and when the work is completed it will be shipped from Kingston to stores handling fine arts throughout the country. The business is entirely wholesale.

At the present time there are but five concerns in the country doing the type of work done by the local concern, which is considered one of the largest in this line of work.

Already production has been started at the local plant, where a series of pictures showing the heads of fine horses are being reproduced and set in specially designed frames.

Intensive alterations are now being made to the building to get it in readiness to swing into full production shortly.

Mr. Allen said today that he was greatly pleased with the possibilities of the city, and that was one of the principal reasons for selecting this city for the possible future headquarters of the concern.

Some years ago the Carnegie Corporation, founded by Andrew Carnegie, set aside a large sum of money for the purpose of instruction in fine arts teaching in various colleges in the country. The art equipment used by these colleges was supplied by the Leach organization, of which the local concern is a subsidiary.

Only 10 Arrests

London, May 11 (AP)—Three rollicking days of hilarity and jinks marked London's victory celebration—but there were only 10 arrests for intoxication on the books of Bow-street station, London's principal police court, yesterday.

Savings Banks Placed Under Housing Limit

New York, May 11 (AP)—No savings bank can finance more than 40 per cent of the total cost of any one housing project, under a series of regulations just adopted by the State Banking Board. State Superintendent of Banks Elliott V. Bell said the regulations also include: No savings bank can invest an amount greater than one per cent of its assets, or 10 per cent of its surplus in any project. Each project must be a multi-family dwelling designed to accommodate not less than 250 families and average rental must be not more than $25 a room a month. Also, each project must be participated in by at least three savings banks; investments must be amortized at a rate of at least two and a half per cent a year; no corporation can undertake participation in housing projects authorized in a recently enacted real property owned in fee. Under the regulations, individual housing projects do not require approval of the banking board. Bell declared: Savings banks participation in housing projects is authorized in a recently enacted real property owned in fee.

Dodgers Will Hold Second Tryout Camp in Kingston

Turk Karam Is Anxious to Find Major Talent at Sessions on July 19-21

When A. B. "Turk" Karam met with the Recreation Committee Tuesday night to talk over plans for the baseball season in the municipal stadium, he told reporters that the Brooklyn Dodgers would conduct another tryout camp at the uptown park this year.

Quoting Branch Rickey as highly pleased with last season's turnout of youngsters to the Kingston camp, Karam said, "We are definitely planning for another camp this summer and hope to hold it during July, probably the 19th, 20th and 21st."

Edson Elated
Harry L. Edson, director of recreation, was highly pleased at the announcement, and said he intends to start an immediate roundup of youngsters, including high school players in the Hudson valley area. Director Edson, who was one of the prime movers for the first camp, said, "I'm glad the Dodgers have decided to return. We want to see some of our local boys up there in the big leagues some day."

Karam said that other tryout camps would be held at Holyoke, Mass.; Pawtucket, N. Y.; and Manchester, N. H. Communities on the probable list are New Haven, Conn.; Paterson, N. J.; Trenton, N. J.; Reading, Pa.; Carbondale, Pa.; and Troy, N. Y.

Expect Many Tryouts
Last season's camp at the municipal stadium brought out a flock of youngsters greater than the turnouts in other communities, the hopefuls reporting from four or five different states.

"I was highly pleased with the camp in Kingston, and I'm certain that this year we'll have an even greater turnout of youngsters," Karam, who has shown a special interest in local sports over a period of years said, "I'm as anxious as Mr. Edson, or any member of the Recreation Committee to find some big league talent in the Kingston district."

New York Will Have 146 Days of Racing at Tracks

New York, May 11 (AP)—New York's new racing season, scheduled to start Monday, May 21, will cover 146 days, winding up with a two-day united hunts meeting on November 6.

The State Racing Commission yesterday approved the following dates for the curtailed season—36 days shorter than last year's 182-day schedule:

Jamaica—May 21 to June 2.
Belmont—June 4 to June 23.
Aqueduct—June 25 to July 14.
Empire—July 16 to August 4.
Saratoga—August 6 to September 1.

Aqueduct—September 3 to September 15.
Belmont—September 17 to October 3.
Jamaica—October 4 to October 20.

Empire—October 22 to November 3.
United Hunts (no site, but usually held at Belmont) November 5 and 6.

There is a possibility that there will be a benefit meeting at one of the tracks following the united hunts meet in the fall, since state law permits racing through November 15. Although the commission made no definite announcement, it is believed that the Empire program again will be conducted at Aqueduct and that the Saratoga meeting will be shifted to Belmont.

Where They Are!
New York, May 11 (AP)—Leading Kentucky Derby probabilities are scattered around the country, principally in Kentucky, New York and Maryland. Here is the latest reported whereabouts of most of the topnotchers:

Kentucky—Free For All, Fighting Don, Pot Luck, Battle Fire, Fighting Step, Best Effort, Air Sailor, New York—Esteem, Flood Town, Dockstader, Coincidence, Adonis, Greek Warrior, Spartun Noble, Rick's Ruff, Pindus, Wild Life, Post Graduate, Jeep, Maryland—Alexis, Brookfield, Bobanet, Mexico and West Coast—Cheerleader, Sea Swallow and War Jeep.

Sports Shorts

New York, May 11 (AP)—Seven baseball leagues which had games scheduled in 27 cities yesterday succeeded in staging only two contests due to the weather man's mood. The two games played were the American League's night session in St. Louis and the International's contest at Montreal.

Of the 25 postponements, eight were due to snow, the others rain or cold weather. The National, American Association, Eastern, Interstate and Pony Leagues had their entire schedules postponed.

Horses Due North
Mexico City, May 11 (AP)—Hundred of thoroughbreds, many here due to the U. S. racing ban, are expected to move northward when the local season closes May 27. The three year old stars, Cheekierall and Be Fearless, were named for the Kentucky Derby. Gay Dalton, five year old undefeated this season, will go to New York. There is a possibility that the season here will be extended, however, for a week of charity races.

Derby Date Coming
Louisville, May 11 (AP)—Col. Matt Winn, executive director of the Kentucky Derby, tomorrow will announce the date for the delayed 71st running of the Derby. June 2 and 9 both have been mentioned as the probable date. The race originally was scheduled for May 5.

Special Races
Blytheville, Ark., May 11 (AP)—Under present plans a special 30-day horse racing meet will be held at Hot Springs, Oklahoma Park October 15-November 15.

Highfall, State Racing Commission chairman, said a check of commission members revealed that granting renewal of the Hot Springs franchise to the Oklahoma Jockey Club.

Oklahoma's old franchise expired this spring after a 10-year run.

Terranova-Orto
Boston, May 11 (AP)—Phil Terranova and Vipee Dell Orto, rival New York featherweights who find Boston boxing rings rather unlucky, will meet in their third and rubber clash in a 10-round feature bout tonight at the Boston Garden.

In his last two appearances here, Terranova lost his N.B.A. featherweight title to Boston's Sal Barile and then was on the short end of his return bout. Dell Orto dropped a close decision to Gus Mell of Montreal, in his last Boston start.

A win for Terranova, who has been cast as a slight favorite, probably will earn him another crack at Barile's title in one of the Boston ball parks.

Out of Derby
New York, May 11 (AP)—Walter M. Jeffords' unbeaten Pavot, which will be reserved for the Pimlico Breakers and Belmont Stakes and pass up the Derby, covered seven furlongs in 1:24, breezing in his first workout since being shipped from Pimlico to Belmont.

Nova-Barlund
New York, May 11 (AP)—Lou Nova, veteran California heavyweight, and Gunnar Barlund, Finnish fighter of much experience, will clash in a 10-round main bout at the St. Nicholas Arena tonight. Back in 1938, Nova halted Barlund in seven rounds.

Bradley Retiring
Palm Beach, Fla., May 11 (AP)—Col. E. R. Bradley, the 86-year-old Kentucky turfman, is retiring and has already begun to liquidate some of his holdings.

Barry Shannon, Palm Beach publisher, and Bradley's representative here, said Col. Bradley stated before leaving here 10 days ago he intended to retire from business.

West Point Will Be Site of Track, Field Meet May 19

Twenty colleges, with a total individual entry of 334, will participate in the 69th annual Intercollegiate A.A.A.A. outdoor track and field championships to be held at West Point, with the United States Military Academy as host for the first time, on Saturday, May 19.

Army, winner of the ICIA indoor team title at Madison Square Garden in March, named 62 athletes for the 16-event competition. Navy, whose midshipmen set an all-time scoring record of 81 points in winning its first ICIA track title last spring at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, nominated 59 men for the defense of its laurels. The complete entry announced by Aca S. Huchnell, ICIA secretary-treasurer and director of the championships, follows:

Army, 62; Brooklyn College, 10; Colgate, 6; CNY, 8; Columbia, 28; Cornell, 22; Dartmouth, 24; Holy Cross, 4; M.I.T., 11; Navy, 59; New York University, 21; Northeastern, 2; Pennsylvania, 15; Penn State, 26; Princeton, 6; Rhode Island State, 18; Swarthmore, 5; Temple, 4; Villanova, 7; and West Virginia, 3.

IRRIGATION PLANNED
Construction of irrigation systems throughout Ecuador is planned under direction of the newly formed National Irrigation Bureau. Quin reports. The program enables municipalities to invest up to 40 per cent of their income in irrigation works to supplement funds obtained from the government.

TOO TO AIR FILMS
To acquire a library of suitable films, including sound pictures in Technicolor, the Federal Government will make a grant-in-aid to the National Film Institute of $8,000. The grant will also help cover costs of production, under the Institute's program, of films for Government departments, it was announced in Dublin.

Kingston Trackmen Maroon Trackmen Will Compete in Cornwall May 12

Seeking their first victory of the 1945 season, Kingston High School track squad will travel to Cornwall Saturday to meet N. Y. M. A. This is the second meet of the season for the Maroon and White which lost to Newburgh Monday at the municipal stadium by the score of 64-49.

Coaches G. Warren Kias and Loryne Connick have been drilling the boys hard for the past week and although the weather has been against them as far as outdoor workouts go, the squad has been drilling in the municipal auditorium. Although the boys out for the field events have not been able to practice them, it must be remembered that N.Y.M.A. has the same problem and does not have the facilities for holding indoor workouts on a large scale.

"Although they didn't come out on top as far as the meet is concerned," Coach Kias told the press, "the boys have shown a willingness to work and if we could only get some decent weather to work out in, they'd be in much better shape than they are now. However," Kias continued, "if they try just a little bit harder against N.Y.M.A., they have a good chance to take the meet."

The cold weather which has hung over the area since the middle of April has hampered the Maroon runners in their attempts to limber up their muscles which enables them to give all they've got in a race. However, the field events which showed up better than was expected in Monday's meet, have been driven indoors by the rain which makes it impossible for the boys to practice.

The Maroon and White will return to the municipal stadium Saturday, May 19, with Poughkeepsie furnishing the opposition.

Nation's Leading Golfers to Play For Service Fund

Four of the country's leading professional golf players, headed by "Lord" Byron Nelson, the year's leading money winner on the winter circuit, will perform for the benefit of the Canteen-by-Mail Saturday, May 19, at the Grossinger Country Club in Farmdale, it was announced yesterday by Bob Towers, director of the event. Proceeds of the 18-hole match will go toward sending of monthly packages to 3,000 men and women in the services. More than $40,000 in gifts already has been distributed to fighting forces by the fund.

Besides the Toledo, Ohio, sharpshooter, who set many records during his brilliant campaign last winter when he won eight tournaments for total earnings of $22,000, other linksmen who will appear in the exhibition are Harold (Jug) McSpaden, another leading money winner; Craig Wood, the duration national open champion from Winged Foot, Mamaroneck, and Herman Barron, White Plains, the Metropolitan P.G.A. Westchester open and pro title holder.

Lord Byron, former National open champion, equaled Ben Hogan's 1940 record in sweeping the three Carolina tournaments at Durham, Charlotte and Greensboro during the winter in which his record of eight victories beat by two the standard established for tournaments by Jim Demaret in 1940. His 263 in capturing the $10,000 Iron Lung 72-hole competition at Augusta, Ga., set a new P.G.A. mark. The old one of 264 was made by Wood in 1940 at Bloomfield, N. J., in the Metropolitan area.

Exhibitions for Gallery
In addition to the best ball play, the pros also will put on exhibitions of chipping, putting and trick shooting with a tremendous gallery expected to be on hand. The Canteen-by-Mail match also will serve as a tune-up for Nelson, who is scheduled to face Sam Snead on the week-end of May 26-27 in a unique 72-hole contest in the Metropolitan area with the proceeds to go to the P.G.A.'s rehabilitation fund for wounded soldiers. Snead and Nelson will meet at Fresh Meadow and Essex Court with the first 36 holes to be at medal play over the same distance. Ross Soble, genial pro of the Grossinger Golf Club, for the past nine years will be host to the players.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT
(By The Associated Press)
Boston—Pedro Firpo, 133, Camden, N. J., outpointed Paulie Jackson, 132½, Reading, Pa., 10. Lige Drew, 150½, Holyoke, outpointed Gene Roberts, 154, New York, 6.

Fall River, Mass.—Steve Kronik, 130, Boston, knocked out Oscar St. Pierre, 135, Fall River, 3. Don Parent, 145, Lowell, outpointed Johnny Marra, 155, Boston, 6.

Pittsburgh—Sparky Reynolds, 148½, Indianapolis, outpointed Art (Honey) Robinson, 148, Pittsburgh, 8.

Ree Called Dangerous
The Town Council of Patchogue, South Africa, thinks bees are dangerous "animals" and insist that the municipality be indemnified against damage from several swarms which took up quarters on the grounds of the college. Three professors of the Patchogue University College argued forcefully with the councilmen on the subject of animals within the meaning of the city's laws. After the bees arrived, the college people decided to establish an apary which would aid students interested in apiculture. They won their point.

SCOREBOARD

By JACK HAND

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Brooklyn's tattered bums may not mess up the National League's first division for long but as of today the Dodgers rate a large "E" for effort.

Tabbed to spend the summer wrestling with the Phillies for a comfortable corner in the cellar shade, Leo Durocher has his gang in second place within rooting distance of the leading New York Giants.

It's a patchwork ball club with Outfielder Augie Galan playing first base and other positions filled by a delegation of citizens originally destined for the Montreal farm club. But it's winning, hitting often and not doing too badly in the field.

Even brother Rickey must be surprised at the club's 272 batting average, what with Dixie Walker, the 1944 hitting king, at .254 and Augie Galan lower at .250.

Things were so tough that Durocher opened the season at second base but aching muscles and appearance of a conditioned Eddie Stanky ended that. Stanky has not made an error in 83 tries and has accounted for eight runs batted in on a .333 mark.

Arrival of Eddie Basinski, ticketed for Montreal, shoved Mike Sandlock out of shortstop and set up a second base combination that has been clicking.

Then Luis Olmo, who had been benched for weak hitting, got back in the lineup and topped a good week with eight hits in a Sunday doubleheader, taking over the league at .396.

Curt Davis got off to a good start with a 3-1 win record, matched by Hal Gregg, whose wildness has been hampered somewhat by veteran Catcher Clyde Sukeforth. Vic Lombardi, never higher than Class B, racked up two wins, one over the Cards, and Les Webber and Otto Nicholas each picked up a decision on a reliever.

Rickey still has a couple of fuzzy-cheeked "boy prodigies" around the bullpen but the 1944 kindergarten class has passed on, and the starters average 30 years of age.

The Brooks' second western test with the Cards was rained out yesterday with all the other National League games and all the American League games except a night tilt in St. Louis.

Jack Kramer hurled the Browns to a second in a row over their first eastern visitors, Washington, by a 10-2 score. Mike Kreevich rapped out four hits and Vern Stephens touched Marino Pieretti for his fourth homer of the year to tie Russ Derry of the idle New York Yankees for the league lead.

Giant War Bond Sports Program At Philadelphia

Philadelphia, May 11 (AP)—A sports fan's dream—or nightmare—is scheduled for Shibe Park a month from today.

The Philadelphia Sports Committee for War Bonds, the sponsors, call it "Sports-go-bang."

A rough outline of the program as disclosed by Committee Chairman Bill Driscoll, sports editor of the Philadelphia Record, includes simultaneous:

Playing of 10 different games, featuring women's lacrosse and hockey teams, two professional basketball quintets on a movable court, tennis matches, plus cricket and soccer tilts.

Staging of four boxing bouts, two wrestling matches and a tug-of-war.

Exhibitions of gymnasts, rope climbers and a William Tell feat with a pretty model holding the apple.

Just to make sure there is no lull in the program, the committee is working on plans to have a parachutist drop smack-dab into the park in the middle of the festivities.

The windup will bring together the Philadelphia Athletics and the Phillies in a city championship baseball game.

It is all in the interests of the Seventh War Loan drive with admission by war bonds only.

Tilden, Richards In Tennis Play At Ferndale Club

Big Bill Tilden and Vinnie Richards celebrate their 27th anniversary as tennis doubles partners when they tackle George Lytleton Rogers and Eli Epstein in a two-day exhibition, arranged by Bob Towers, at the Grossinger Country Club, Ferndale, May 12 and 13. Aiding the Seventh War Loan drive, the players' racquets will be auctioned to the highest war bond bidder, following the matches. Singles exhibitions will round out the program.

Immediately following his appearance at The Grossinger Country Club, Big Bill will embark on a tour of 35 Army and Navy bases all along the Atlantic coast. In spite of his 52 years, Tilden, the self-styled "old fossil of tennis," has continued to perform magnificently against all of the net talent now actively engaged in the game.

Volunteer Firemen Vote Membership In Local C. of C.

At the annual meeting of the Veteran Volunteer Firemen Association of Kingston on Thursday evening the association voted to take out a membership in the Kingston Chapter of Commerce; voted unanimous opposition to the proposed St. Lawrence seaway project, and elected officers for the ensuing year.
The meeting was held in the city hall and in the absence of the president and vice presidents was presided over by Alderman Thomas F. Coughlin.
The matter of the interest of the Hudson river valley residents in opposing the St. Lawrence seaway project was brought up by City Assessor James H. Betts, and the association voted unanimously to affiliate with the New York State Conference in opposing the project.
It was brought out at the meeting that if Congressional approval is secured for the project that such a water route would strangle the commercial, industrial and economic life of the state, and especially of the Hudson river valley.
Edward F. Moran was elected president; A. J. Bums, first vice president; John A. Heaney, second vice president; James H. Betts, secretary and Francis S. Cashin, treasurer.
Directors elected for two years terms were William Keating, Sr., Joseph Lynch and Richard R. Greene.

The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst
The Allies have had a great stroke of luck in getting their hands on Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering, because the fat and outwardly amiable ex-deputy fuhrer is one of the most dangerous Nazis left alive—and it's good to hear from responsible sources in London that he soon will be tried as a war criminal.
We safely can award the gorgeous uniformed and benedicted Goering second place on the list of men to be feared. He is out-ranked only by Franz von Papen, the unmatched Prussian plotter of two world conflicts, whom the Allies also have in custody along with a large and growing log of Axis war-mongers.
There's a third Hitlerite whom the world wants even more than Goering and von Papen—not because of his power as a leader but because of his barbarities. That is Hermann the Hangman, who, as head of the terrible Gestapo, has carried out massacres and tortures which have few parallels in history.
Himmler is in hiding, but the globe isn't big enough to conceal him from justice. Another bad actor—little Joe Goebbels, the propaganda minister—died in the battle of Berlin about the time that Hitler was reported dead by Nazi authorities.
Goering is dangerous, not in the gory sense that Himmler is, but because he is possessed of great leadership and has shown unusual organizing ability. That, of course, is why Hitler picked him to be crown prince, and turned against his deputy only recently when (according to Goering) the latter wanted to take over the dictator's job.
A lot of folk have come to look on the strutting Reichsmarshal as an opera bouffe character, but that's underestimating him badly. We shouldn't let his eccentricities and penchant for personal adornment fool us, nor yet that boyish grin which the people of Germany have found so captivating.
Apropos of Goering's ability to handle people, I saw him give a typical demonstration with a huge audience in the Berlin Sports Palace one night while the crowd was waiting for Hitler to appear for an address. When the Reichsmarshal entered the vast hall the assemblage gave him an ovation, yelling "Hermann, Hermann," although not a mother's son would have dreamed of calling the Fuhrer "Adolf." Hermann banded wisecracks with members of the audience for a quarter of an hour—and they loved it. Several times he tried to sit down, and they called him back.
Yes, Goering knows how to handle the German people—and it would be unsafe to leave him at large.

Nazi Fanatics Flee Toward U. S. Lines As Russians Gain

were in Allied hands, including the cruisers Prinz Eugen and Niernburg, which had shelled Copenhagen over the week-end. These were under the sentinel guns of the Royal Navy in Copenhagen harbor, along with three destroyers, two torpedo boats, 10 minesweepers, 13 flag ships, 19 armed trawlers and two armed merchantmen.
A report from the French press agency said French sailors in La Rochelle, Atlantic port which surrendered Wednesday, officially had taken over the German Atlantic fleet units anchored there. The number of vessels was not announced.
Subs Are Surrendering
Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz' submarine fleet—the wolf packs which for so long had preyed on Allied shipping—was surrendering and putting in to British ports.
Dunkerque, scene of the British defeat in 1940, had surrendered. The Channel islands of Sark, Jersey and Guernsey, which had been taken by the Nazis shortly after the fall of France, capitulated to a British task force. They were the only part of the United Kingdom to have been occupied by the Germans.
The disarming of some 120,000 Germans in Holland was under way.
Premier Marshal Stalin, in messages to President Truman and Prime Minister Churchill, congratulated them on the unconditional surrender of Nazi Germany, declaring that "the joint struggle of Soviet, American and British Armies against the German invader... will go down in history as an example of fighting collaboration of our peoples."
The Germans in Czechoslovakia still fighting milled about in a great 4,000-square mile pocket. One German group, threatened with encirclement by Marshal Ivan S. Konev's First Ukraine Army, already had begun to surrender. Some 35,000 were taken Wednesday and Thursday.
Fanatical German pilots in Czechoslovakia were reported to have used their last fuel to bomb a concentration camp where Jews were interned.
Eduard Benes, President of Czechoslovakia, returned to one time "losses approaching a prohibitive rate" on the deep penetration raids into the heart of Germany threatened to restrict operations so much as to bring into question the ability of the air force to make its D-Day deadline.

The situation was saved, he said, by the introduction of long-range American Mustang fighters.
One of the highlights in the history of the Eighth Air Force was its campaign against German oil production, which Doolittle described as "a continuing contest between bombardiers and German reconstruction battalions."
"Unless the Germans were willing to end all resistance, they could not afford to stop repairing and rebuilding plants which made resistance possible," the commander said.
"At Leuna, West of Leipzig, the enemy's synthetic oil plant had to be attacked 18 times by the Eighth and three times by the R.A.F. It was the most heavily defended single industrial plant in all Germany. Each attacking bomber was the target of at least 437 88 MM. and larger rapid fire heavy anti-aircraft and artillery cannon. A smoke screen 30 miles in perimeter covered the area."
He said the bombers halted all production there five times, but each time the Germans applied thousands of repair men to the job of putting it back into partial production.
"The manager of the Leuna works told one of our intelligence officers that in addition to the 11,000 people employed in operating the plant, 4,000 men were assigned solely for the repair of bomb damage."

Prague as the total liberation of his country drew near.
In Austria, Marshal Fedor I. Tolbukhin's Third Ukrainian map out sounds linked with the British Eighth Army west of Graz. More than 23,000 Germans from Wehrmacht's army group surrendered to him, Moscow said.
In Latvia the prisoner bag by early today rose to 68,578 men, 1,982 officers and 13 generals as the Courland Peninsula Nazis capitulated. In the Danzig area the Second and Third White Russian Armies took 53,000 Nazi prisoners, including the commander of the German Second Army.

Post Offices Sponsor An Ambulance Train

The post offices of Ulster county are out to sponsor an ambulance train in the Seventh War Loan. Each car of the train costs $65,000. It is hoped by the committee that several cars will be bought.
Thirty of the 70 post offices have already sent in their individual goals which will total $36,722.50. If the others do as well as the first 30, there will be several cars in the Ulster County Post Office Ambulance Train.
